68-70 Springlands Drive, Slacks Creek

We are delighted to present to the market for the first time, this exquisite architecturally designed residence which is positioned on a picturesque 6273m² (zoned R2000) acreage block. The home has been impeccably maintained & updated by its owners who have enjoyed four decades here as the home has a design that, in their words, simply works. From the little things such as the ease of bringing the groceries straight into the home & kitchen for hassle free unloading, to the well thought out separation in the positioning of the bedrooms and living zones, and to the fact that this home has complete dual living on both levels. Not to mention that the land itself is suitable for a number of uses, having been used for horses and cattle over the years (there is full side access to the rear yard). The property has certainly served this family's changing needs beautifully over the years and will do the same for you....

A step inside this home and you would be forgiven for
